Edwin Way Races Across NJ

Since his father purchased his first bike for him at age 10, Union Catholic's Edwin Way of the Class of 2009 has enjoyed motor cross racing and chosen dirt bikes as his preferred method of transportation. Edwin, who is about to purchase his fourth bike, loves spending his free time riding on various tracks, public and private, throughout the eastern coast. With spring in full swing, he often can be found revisiting his practice track at Raceway Park in Englishtown, NJ. Edwin has competed in various Eastern Coastline Competitions, most recently achieving 5th place overall in district points. He often entertains the idea of traveling down to Florida to compete in National competitions, but hasn't made it there yet. Edwin is sponsored by the Monster Energy Drink Company which, during his races, supplies him with uniforms, helmets, equipment and of course, thirst-quenching beverages. As a student at UC, Edwin has served as President of the Ski Club as well as a member of the Irish Vikings. He recalls being quite upset in being unable to march in the annual Union County St. Patrick's Day Parade due to his obligation to one of his motocross races.

Edwin is hoping to attend Kean University in the fall and is interested in majoring in either Business or Physical Education. He hopes to continue practice racing and compete in any local races that are available. He added, "It's a huge commitment. But it's something that I will always enjoy doing."
